

Shailesh Kumar is a PhD candidate, a Commonwealth Scholar funded by the UK govt, and an Associate Tutor at the School of Law, Birbeck College, University of London. He teaches criminal law to undergraduate and postgraduate students. He is a Research Assistant at dept. of criminology. His current project is an empirical study of the operation of legal reforms dealing with sexual violence against children in India. His areas of interest are sexual violence, youth justice, courts and punishment.

His reseach can be accessed from here: <https://birkbeck.academia.edu/SHAILESHKUMAR>